Results Of County Levy To Aid T.B. Sufferers In Doubt

Mrs. Dolin

LACK CLUES IN SOLVING MURDER

Cleveland Gambling Figure's Wife May Be Sex Victim

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7.—Lack of clews today hampered police investigating the brutal slaying of Mrs. Dorothy Dolin, attractive 32-year-old wife of Louis "Yockey" Dolin, identified by police as a local gambling operator.

Mrs. Dolin's body was found in her Cleveland Heights home yesterday. Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said she had been beaten, stabbed and strangled.

But police said no evidence of forcible entry or any struggle could be found nor were there any fingerprints of value.

The victim's 59-year-old husband voluntarily submitted to a lie detector test last night and police announced results indicated Dolin told the truth when he denied any knowledge of the slaying.

However, Lt. Lawrence G. Denk, chief of the Cleveland Heights detective bureau, said Dolin was "detained overnight pending further check on "one point."

Coroner Gerber, who described the crime as one of the most vicious slayings in his memory, said the victim might have been attacked sexually before she was slain.

Mrs. Dolin died of a fractured skull and strangulation caused by a towel knotted around her throat, Gerber declared.

Police reported an electric iron and steel paring knife were found near the body and a bent silver table knife on the kitchen floor. The slayer apparently attacked Mrs. Dolin with all three.

The body was discovered by Dolin when, he told police, he returned home about 1 a. m. yesterday.

ISSUE GIVEN 74.5 PERCENT MAJORITY HERE

Lisbon Vote Also Strong But Majority Elsewhere Is Short

Indications at noon today, when most of the urban votes throughout the county were unofficially tallied, were that the one mill county tax levy would not make the required 65 per cent.

By noon, with reports in from Salem, East Liverpool, Wellsville, East Palestine, Lisbon, Columbiana, Washingtonville and part of Leetonia, the levy was receiving an approval of 59.4 per cent of the vote, nearly six per cent from the required amount.

Only areas yet to report were the rural districts, where it is expected that the levy will lose ground.

The levy would have provided funds for the care of tuberculosis patients in the county.

Salem Vote 1760 to 601

Salem gave the levy a 1,760 to 601 approval, a 74.5 per cent affirmative vote. Lisbon gave a similar per centage in favor, voting 726 for and 247 against.

East Liverpool's 2,776 for and 2,428 against figured to a 54 per cent approval. Wellsville voted 870 to 817 for the levy, short of the required mark of approval.

In two of seven precincts in Leetonia, the balance not recorded yet today, voters said yes 190 times and no 98, slightly better than a 66 per cent approval.

Washingtonville cast its vote 53 per cent in the affirmative, voting 32 to 28 in favor of the measure.

BOND ISSUE FOR UNITED SCHOOL DISTRICT PASSES

Voters in the United School district, which includes the former Butler, Hanover and Kensington school districts, approved a $206,000 bond issue to finance the construction of a new grade and High school building, to be erected near New Garden.

Voting 684 in favor of the issue to 219 against, the voters expressed nearly 75 per cent approval of the project. It required a 65 per cent vote to pass.

The new building will be located on the Paul Palmer farm, three-fourths of a mile south of New Garden, and will accommodate the 820 grade and High school students now located throughout the district in other schools. Plans are already drawn.

Knox Issue Passes

Knox township school district approved a $190,180 bond issue to erect a new school building by a 568 to 113 vote yesterday while Beaver township failed to give the required 65 per cent approval to a $323,000 bond issue for the erection of five new school buildings in that district below Lisbon.

Beaver township voters cast a 736 to 554 vote in favor of the issue, but did not make the required 65 per cent for approval.

In Center township voters named George H. Pollock, Clifford Shaw and Arthur Tritten to the school district board of education. They were unopposed.

Goshen Renews Its Levy For Schools

DAMASCUS, Nov. 7 — Frank Mather and Thomas Fredericks of Garfield were elected Goshen township trustees in the voting here and the township school levy for operating expenses was approved by a four to one vote.

Ray Bardo, Wade Schaeffer of Damascus and William Miskimins of Goshen Center were named to the local school board.

To the county school board Goshen voters elected Harold Rickert of Austintown, Howard Kabler of New Springfield and Joseph Miller of Boardman.

O'Dwyer New York Winner, Detroit Re-elects Jefferies

(By Associated Press)

Democrat William O'Dwyer yesterday swamped two major opponents and won election as mayor of New York City.

His vote far exceeded the aggregate of his opposition and prompted Democratic leaders to see good things ahead for the party in the state and nation. They saw in it a decline in the political fortunes of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Republicans withheld comment.

In the second municipal scrap that captured more than local attention in yesterday's first postwar voting, Mayor Edward J. Jeffries was elected to a fourth term in Detroit's hot non-partisan mayoralty race against Richard T. Frankensteen, CIO union leader.

Frankensteen had the backing of the CIO's Political Action committee.

Pittsburgh Names Lawrence

Democrats also elected these mayors: David L. Lawrence, national committeeman for Pennsylvania, in Pittsburgh; Incumbent Thomas A. Burke at Cleveland, and Rep. James M. Curley for a fourth term, not consecutive, at Boston. The Curley victory was in a non-partisan race involving six registered Democrats.

Republicans won the mayoralties of Syracuse and Buffalo with Frank J. Costello and Bernard J. Dowd, respectively, but Democrats showed considerable strength in other upstate New York cities.

In the only major congressional contest of the day—the 4th New Jersey district—Republicans retained control of the seat resigned by D. Lane Powers. Frank A. Mathews, Jr., organization G.O.P. candidate, ran well ahead.

The 24th Illinois district also elected a Republican to congress, Roy Clippinger, who succeeds the late Rep. James D. Heidinger, Republican.

In the only gubernatorial contest, Lieut. Gov. William M. Tuck was elected governor of Virginia by better than two to one over two opponents. He carried his ticket with him.

LEETONIA, Nov. 7.—A $10,000 bond issue for the purchase of a new fire truck was approved by more than the necessary 65 per cent of the total vote in Tuesday's election.

There were 575 "yes" and 101 "no" ballots cast.

Fred W. Galley, Independent, was elected mayor, polling 492 votes to 310 for his opponent, Clarence Barnes, Democrat, who has been acting mayor for several months because of the illness of Mayor John Arnold.

Galley, Leetonia newspaper publisher for the past five years, was secretary-treasurer of the Democratic executive committee in Holmes county when he lived in Millersburg, his home town.

Leetonia voters approved the renewal of a two-mill school levy, for five years, by a vote of 640 to 202, and approved the Columbiana county one-mill welfare levy by 496 to 319.

City Council Studies Project To Improve Ohio, Reilly Aves.

City council last night took further steps toward the improvement of Ohio ave., between E. State st. and Franklin ave., and Reilly ave., between the Reilly school building and Franklin st.

No definite action was taken on either project, but the Ohio ave. improvement was referred to the streets, alleys and sidewalks committee for consideration after a request for estimates was received from residents of the street.

The city plans to assess property owners for the job.

Councilman Harry Vincent reported that a planned 20 foot asphalt roadway with four-foot slanting sidewalk on each side, is planned for Reilly ave., costing approximately $3.50 per running foot.

The added sidewalk arrangement would allow for busses and cars passing, he said.

Council refused to grant a service car franchise to the Salem Cab Co., as requested by Owners Donald Hindman and Paul Berry.

Study Parking Meter Plan

No decision has been reached in regard to the proposed installation of parking meters in Salem. Councilman Arch Wentz suggested that this matter by considered together with the request for an additional patrolman since it would require the time of at least one policeman to check the meters.

In reply to a petition by approximately 200 employes of the Salem China Co., council granted permission to Carl Varian, owner and operator of the Leetonia bus line, to transport passengers from the Stark Transit terminal on N. Ellsworth ave. and passengers picked up on E. State st. to the China Co. plant. This a revival of permission granted temporarily during the war.

A transfer of $75 from the medical fund and $25 from the food fund to the board of health fund was made to assist in the payment of debts for the remainder of the year. The request was filed by the board of health.

Hear Traffic Complaint

The safety committee was assigned to investigate a request by the Central Clinic that heavy traffic be diverted to some street other than E. Second st.

Albert R. Hanna, Clinic superintendent, reported that the noise caused by the passage of heavy vehicles near the Clinic was very disturbing to the patients.

Council also transferred $611.12 from the water works fund to the reservoir fund to cover incidental expenses in connection with the issuance of the recent water works improvement mortgage bonds.

A transfer of $1,800 from the water works fund to the division of supply fund, to cover operating expenses for the balance of the year was made.

OHIO VOTERS APPROVE MANY BOND ISSUES

Postwar Improvements are Assured In Scattered Communities

(By Associated Press)

Postwar improvements totaling millions of dollars were assured for Ohio today following yesterday's off-year election in which voters balloted on a record-breaking number of bond issues and tax levies.

More than 200 bond proposals, aggregating $104,033,000, on the ballots, and incomplete returns from the first 11 cities reporting elections results showed 23 bond issues totaling $31,423,000 had received the required 65 per cent favorable vote. These same cities defeated 12 bond issues proposing an outlay of $22,499,000.

Approved In Columbus

Voters in Ohio's capital endorsed 15 bond issues totaling more than $24,000,000, but defeated a proposal for an increased tax levy for current operating expenses. Suburban Grandview also approved a $430,000 school improvement proposal.

Incomplete returns from Dayton and Montgomery county indicated that at least 12 of 18 issues calling for expenditures of $25,000,000 would be approved.

Springfield voters endorsed two measures totaling $4,418,000 and defeated three others for $3,324,000.

In Toledo, voters appeared more frugal. Bond issues aggregating $12,000,000 went down to defeat.

Few shifts in political allegiance of voters were noted in the balloting for municipal officers in 115 municipalities. Of the first 60 [illegible] and village reporting on

Mayor R. R. Johnson, Republican, was re-elected mayor over former Mayor Norman Phillips, Democrat, by a majority of 562 votes in the municipal election yesterday which saw the Republicans win all offices but three councilmanic seats.

Johnson, given a vote of confidence for this third term, polled 1,526 to 964 for Phillips.

The Democrats salvaged the First and Third ward councilmen and one councilman-at-large — Fred W. Koenreich, who nosed out Ned Massa (R) by 10 votes. Republicans Harry Vincent, incumbent, and J. Don Guiley led in the six-man race for councilmen-at-large.

The other two Democratic winners are Fred L. Blevins, who defeated Herbert W. Pealy, incumbent, in the First ward, and Harold J. Astry, elected in the Third ward over John V. Emery.

Vincent Leads 6-Man Race

Vincent led the council-at-large ticket with 1443, Guiley polled 1245 and Koenreich had 1184 to win third place over Massa with 1174. Next came Alton Fenton with 881 and William Steffel with 830.

No Substitutes For Law

If there should creep into the labor-management conference in Washington any suggestion that the agreements it may reach might be a substitute for law, the suggestion must be challenged.

Congress alone has the power to lay down the rights and restrictions of management and labor in industrial relations. There can be no substitute for its action. The Washington conference, moreover, is not even broadly representative of management and labor. Its labor spokesmen can speak only for organized labor, and inside organized labor they can speak only for their own organizations. The conference will not reflect the viewpoints of unions not represented and will contain nothing to represent the great numerical majority of wage earners who belong to no labor unions at all. In the same way, the spokesmen for management are not directly representative of anything but the memberships of their own organizations.

The laws with which Congress ultimately must bring about equitability in industrial relations will never be made, if they are made properly, by partisans. The United States is concerned about a breakdown of industrial discipline now largely because partisans were encouraged to believe they existed above and beyond the law. The country needs no more of that. It needs something in the spirit of the labor peace bill introduced in the United States Senate by Senators Ball, Burton and Hatch. Before his elevation to the Supreme court, Mr. Burton spoke of the proposal as the public's bill of rights . . . "it clarifies and equalizes the rights of all parties in the light of experience . . . protects the public where the public is concerned."

There is much the labor-management conference can accomplish, in the line of understanding. But it can make no rules, define no rights and no wrongs. Congress is charged with that function, and congressional action is overdue. The industrial "peace" conference is not a substitute. President Truman's remark that the conference can avert congressional action is ill-advised and puts the official auspices of the gathering under suspicion.

A Division On Secrecy

Recent passage of legislation giving UNRRA the $550,000,000 remainder due on this government's original commitment of $1,343,000,000 was preceded by a curious political division on the issue of secrecy about public affairs.

The Republican congressional food study committee had looked into UNRRA's operations and submitted a list of recommendations, while the committee thought UNRRA should be supported, it insisted its operations should be open to the press as a means of keeping it from repeating decisions the committee knew were intolerable. To this end, it proposed an amendment calling for access by accredited American newspapermen to all UNRRA operations in Europe.

There was no proper ground for opposing the amendment, but the Democratic majority chose to call for a division of votes on the issue of secrecy in UNRRA. Democratic speakers argued in favor of secrecy to the best of their ability. In the showdown, fortunately, the amendment carried, 186 to 168. The decision of the House on the appropriation itself followed closely the findings of the Republican food study committee.

Ohio has a special interest in this demonstration of party government at its best—also its worst. The chairman of the food study committee is Representative Thomas A. Jenkins of the 10th district. The amendment that gives the people the right to know what is done with their money was offered by Representative Clarence J. Brown of the 7th district.

Five of Ohio's six Democratic representatives voted to withhold information about UNRRA from the public. The sixth Democrat was not present. All the state's Republicans present voted to let the people know what UNRRA does with European relief.

Ley's Legacy

The account of the suicide of Robert Ley included this sentence: "Ley composed a strange document conceding the errors of Nazism and indicating that his downfall had deranged him to some extent."

That is an interesting conjecture. And if the writer of the story were comparing the "political testament" of the one-time Nazi labor boss with his past deeds and utterances, then Ley was indeed deranged.

But Ley was a scientist before he became the drunken, bigoted, fanatical Nazi hoodlum who created the "Strength Through Joy" movement. And it may be that some of the scientist's lucidity returned to him in the last days of the evil life that he chose to end.

Much that Ley said in his "deranged" testament had the ponderous conviction of prophecy. He told the German people: "We have forsaken God, and therefore we are forsaken by God. We put our human volition in the place of His godly grace. In anti-Semitism we violated the basic commandment of His creation."

Anyone of an exact and explicit turn of mind may find those three sentences a too simple, too theological explanation. Attorney General Clark, in a recent speech, complained that Ley and the Germans mistook anti-Semitism and Nazism for two separate philosophies, rather than one and the same thing.

Yet there is evidence in Ley's testament that he considered anti-Semitism the root of all the evils of Nazism. In its elimination he saw the German people's salvation. And while his plan for that salvation might be unworkable, it suggested at least a sound step toward redemption.

Certainly the three sentences quoted here are a persuasive summing up of the crime and punishment of the German people—the most terrible crime by an enlightened nation in the history of man. They form a valuable legacy to a recently deranged people from one of the mad leaders whom they had believed and followed from "Strength Through Joy" to ruin and despair.

The Big Three and Three-Quarters

An immediate consequence of the postwar rumblings of China's civil war is to widen American disillusionment about one of the shaky concepts of the war itself. There never was a Big Four, in the sense of four major powers — the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China. Nor was there a Big Five, which would have included France.

The Allies, in their devotion to China for its courageous resistance to Japan, tried to overlook the civil war that threatened to destroy it internally. The United States, particularly, because it was furnishing the lion's share of aid to the Chinese Nationalists, was at great pains to play down the implications of a dissident minority calling itself a Communist government. The Chinese situation bubbled in the American people's consciousness, but it did not explode. The explosion was postponed until a later time, which may be set off by the Communist group's angry charges that the United States is interfering with China's internal affairs. Since the interference consists of doing only what it has been this government's policy to do throughout the war—help Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek—the implications are of exceedingly grave nature. The United States is being invited to get out of China by a minority operating in defiance of the government. The minority is apparently friendly to, if not backed by, Soviet Russia. The Big Four is reduced to the Big Three and Three-Quarters and is threatened with further reduction. There are signs that in some quarters it already has shrunk to the Big One.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, November 8.

THERE is little encouragement for serious goals or objectives in the stellar operations of this day. On the contrary, there is the urge to continue on a routine of festivity, celebration, conviviality and romantic adventure, in which the approbation or cooperation of elders or feminine relatives may be lacking. It is admonished that there be rigid regard for rules and regulations lest there be clashes with public or civic authorities.

Those whose birthday it is may be indisposed for concentrated effort in the direction of attaining any specific goals or ambitious objectives. Rather, the party spirit endures, with celebrations or festivities in connection with domestic, social, professional or romantic aspirations.

However, this may not have hearty sanction from elders, family or those in high places, since the neglected talents and skills in cultural or other creative avenues are well stimulated. Financial prospects seem to hold their own without much effort. It would be wise to avoid all possibility of clashes or arguments with those in public or community authority.

A child born on this day, while having talent and skill in cultural or creative arts, may be disposed to the pursuit of pleasure and indulgence, to the annoyance of its elders and superiors.

Doubtless, Britishers feel that the return of French champagne to England is an uncorking good idea.

Treating "Change of Life"

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

CERTAIN processes occur naturally at definite times during life. For example, there is the period of rapid growth at the maturing period of adolescence.

In women, the change of life may produce certain abnormal symptoms. The change of life itself, as a rule, does not require treatment but something must be done to relieve any existing abnormal conditions.

Careful Examination

The first step in the treatment is a careful examination to make sure that certain conditions, such as tumors, are not present, and to discover whether or not high blood pressure, diabetes, and other disorders common to the middle-age period are present, and to treat them if found. Mental and emotional disturbances are frequently responsible for many of the symptoms which occur during the change of life. The services of a psychiatrist may be helpful in treating these.

In about 80 patients it was found that almost half were relieved of their symptoms by a sedative drug, phenobarbitone, taken by mouth. The remainder were treated with estrogen, a glandular extract, and about half of them obtained relief by this method.

Those who were not helped by either of these forms of treatment were given estrogen plus sedative or quieting drugs; about one-third of them obtained relief in this way.

Many physicians, among them Doctor E. L. Sevringhaus of Wisconsin, feel that, by the use of a sufficient amount of estrogen, it is possible to relieve all of the symptoms of the menopause, with rare exceptions. The estrogen may be given by mouth or by injection into a muscle, and the physician will, of course, decide the quantity to be employed in each case, the manner in which the estrogen is to be administered, and the length of time it is to be used. The idea is to give the smallest amount that will afford the patient relief.

Estrogen cannot be given to patients who have had a cancer of the breast or of the womb. It has been found that the use of estrogen in women who have a tendency to mental disturbances may prevent the development of any such disorders.

During the change of life many women develop an anxiety or fear, and everything possible should be done to allay this anxiety and eliminate it. Maintaining the proper mental attitude toward the menopause is most important.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. C.: Every year I seem to suffer from boils. What causes this?

Answer: The cause of boils is lowered resistance to a type of germ commonly found in the skin which is known as staphylococcus. The germs are rubbed into the skin because of the contact of the clothes, or from dirty hands.

In the treatment of boils, several things may be done. The general resistance of the body should be built up by getting plenty of fresh air, sunshine, and outdoor exercise, as well as by eating a proper diet, containing vegetables, fruits, whole-grain cereals, milk and butter, with meat and eggs in moderate amount. A plentiful amount of water should be drunk daily. The hands and clothes should be kept clean.

The use of X-ray may be necessary in resistant cases. Ultra-violet light may also be of value in increasing the general resistance of the skin.

Salem High School Band To Appear In Public Exhibition At Stadium Thursday

A 40-minute marching band show—something new for Salem people—will be presented to the public at Reilly stadium at 8 p. m. Thursday, C. M. Brautigam, director of the Salem High school band, announced today. Best of all the show is free!

In order to give non-football fans and other music enthusiasts an opportunity to see a full evening's show of marching band work, the High school unit, 68 pieces strong, will present this novelty performance.

Featuring their mercury arc "black lights," believed to be the only ones in use in the country by a marching unit, the band will give excerpts from performances given at Reilly stadium over the past two or three years, along with new numbers and acts worked out especially for the Thursday show.

Program To Be Varied

Director Brautigam offers a varied musical program, including regular field and football marches, semi-classical numbers and waltzes, together with several popular selections by a dance band unit from the group.

The program will open with the customary flag raising ceremony, followed by some intricate drill work by the entire band on the football field.

Under the "black lights," the unit will give its version of a waltzing band to the tune, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

A revolving letter S will then be formed, and the group will march playing "Notre Dame Victory March."

The five drum majorettes will then exhibit their group baton twirling routine.

Special recognition for the Senior members of the band will be made as the organization plays "Auld Lang Syne," and forms the numerals 46.

A novelty concert number, which has met with great favor here, "Poet, Peasant and Light Calvaryman," will be played as the unit stands in a block formation.

Revive Halloween Show

"Jungle Dance of the Spirits," a novelty number, will introduce the "black light" show given at the Salem-Struthers halftime program two weeks ago. Spirits, skeletons and other Halloween spectacles appear on the field in conjunction with this performance.

"Believing In The Stars," a popular number, will be played by a dance band group.

The customary fanfare will begin additional group drillwork, again in the center of the field, followed by an SHS formation and a majorette number which features special individual shows by each of the five feminine twirlers.

Under the special lights once again the unit will present a patriotic display, while playing "National Emblem," "Thanks To The Yanks," and America the Beautiful."

The High school Alma Mater, written for Salem High by Barbara Butler, a former band member, will close the performance.

PLANE CRASH AT AKRON KILLS TWO

AKRON, Nov. 7.—Two men were killed and another critically injured today when a test plane owned by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. crashed a few seconds after a take-off at Akron municipal airport.

Edward J. Quigley, about 42, police chief for Firestone, was dead on arrival at City hospital, while Edward Brown, an engineer in the company's research and development department, died a few minutes after arrival at the hospital.

Hospital attendants reported the condition of A. F. Weber, Jr., 23, a Firestone engineer, as "critical".

Airport officials said Quigley was testing airplane tires and had just taken off again after completing several practice landings. One motor of the twin-motored Lockheed Hudson sputtered just after the ship cleared a runway. It plunged to the ground and burst into flames.

NEW GIANT X-RAY
The Latest Development in 50 Years of X-Ray Research

1895—Roentgen, in Germany, discovers mysterious powerful ray, names it "X"—the unknown. One year later, W. D. Coolidge, student at M.I.T., begins experimenting with x-rays. First x-ray tubes were about 25,000 volts.

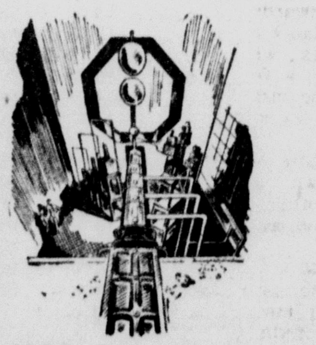
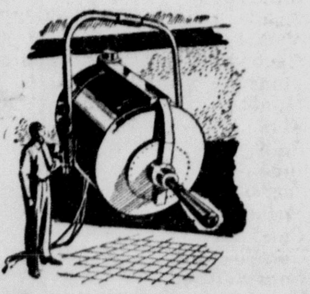
1920—Coolidge designs a completely insulated tube and transformer for a thoroughly safe x-ray unit. The first wholly safe, convenient and adequate dental x-ray outfit came out of this.

1945—NEW G-E 100-MILLION-VOLT "BETATRON"!
This 130-ton giant whirls electrons, tiniest parts of atoms, faster than man has ever been able to speed them before. So fast that they make the nearly 17-foot circular orbit of a doughnut-shaped vacuum tube 250,000 times in 1/240th of a second, and, striking a tungsten target, produce x-rays of 100-million-electron volts!
Dr. E. E. Charlton, left, and W. F. Westendorp, G-E scientists, designed this new machine, which generates x-rays over a thousand times as intense as the early Coolidge tube—with a wave length of 0.00025 Angstrom units, up in the cosmic ray band! These rays will penetrate a thickness of metal considerably greater than even the 2,000,000-volt x-ray unit.
But more important still may be the uses of these super x-ray machines in medical and atomic research. G. E. is making them available to medical science for experimental therapy. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
1923—Coolidge develops a 200,000-volt "deep therapy" tube with water-cooled target. This higher voltage tube greatly reduced time required for x-ray treatments.


1933—General Electric builds multi-section tubes producing 800,000-volt x-rays. Installed in Mercy Hospital, Chicago, and Swedish Hospital, Seattle, these units have been in constant use ever since.


1940—First 1,000,000-volt unit, plus portability, making x-rays more useful to medicine and industry. Fifty-six of these units built by G-E X-Ray Corporation used in U.S. war production—even flown to England. In 1943 General Electric scientists and engineers developed the first portable 2,000,000-volt x-ray.

BOUDREAU CLAIMS GOOD FARM SETUP IS INDIAN NEED

Says Tribe Will Not Be In Thick of Pennant Race In 1946

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7.—Spring and baseball are a long way off, but Manager Lou Boudreau has issued a forecast—his Cleveland Indians won't cut any fancy capers in the 1946 pennant chase.

The Tribe pilot is convinced of two things:

Two years will be required to develop the Indians into a pennant threat.

The club must expand its farm and scouting system to get its share of the youngsters returning from the armed forces.

"It looks to me," Boudreau said, "as if the Yankees and the Red Sox will be very tough next season. The Tigers were good enough to win this year—and they have practically an entire team of experienced players returning from the services.

"We have very few fellows of proven big league caliber still in the Army and Navy. Ken Keltner, Ray Mack, Chuck Embree, maybe Hank Edwards and Tom Ferrick. We have some great-looking prospects, but you don't mention prospects in the same breath with such fellows as the Dimaggios, Williams, Doerr, Gordon and Wakefield.

Rookies Ready

"A dozen or more of the rookies looked just about ready for big league jobs when they went to war," Boudreau continued. "In three of four years, they may have developed into real stars, or they may have discovered they're not baseball players after all. We have no way of telling until we try them.

"Just to take one example: the last we saw of Ted Szcepkowski before the war, he was a skinny, nervous second baseman. When we saw him at the Coast Guard station in Curtis Bay last summer, he had added 40 pounds, he was playing the outfield and he was full of confidence. He hit two home runs against us that day—a kid who looked, when we first saw him, as if he'd never get the ball out of the infield."

Boudreau said he had talked with Vice President Roger Peckinpaugh and they were in complete agreement that the club's farm and scouting systems must be expanded.

"The clubs which show the best judgment in picking their raw material during the next couple of seasons are the clubs which will fight for the pennant for the next 10 years."

IRISH GUARD TOP LINEMAN OF WEEK

John Mastrangelo Picked By Writers As Top Player of Week

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A Notre Dame Sophomore guard, John Mastrangelo of Vandergrift, Pa., today won this week's Associated Press award as college football's "lineman of the week".

Mastrangelo, a 19-year-old who weighs 200 pounds and stands six feet, was in the thick of play as the Irish and Navy battled to a 6-6 tie Saturday at Cleveland. He received wide recognition for his performance.

Ed Ryan, end of St. Mary's unbeaten, untied Gaels of the Pacific coast, received high praise for his work in the 26-0 rout of Southern California. He recovered a U.S.C. fumble to set up the first touchdown and frequently broke through to dump Trojan runners for losses. Once he carried the ball on an end-around for 20 yards.

Others Praised

Knox Ramsey, 190-pound William and Mary tackle, and Kelley Mote, Duke end, were rated tops in the south. Ramsey set up three touchdowns against Maryland. He blocked and recovered two punts, one for a touchdown. The other resulted from his jarring tackle that caused a Maryland fumble. Mote's defensive play helped the Blue Devils down Georgia Tech. No gains were made around his end.

Max Morris, Northwestern end, performed brilliantly against Ohio State.

The complete list of midwest players nominated this week:

Ends—Leonard Ford, Michigan; Max Morris, Northwestern; Bill Leonard, Notre Dame.

Walker-Robinson Carded

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7 — Middleweights Billy Walker of New York and Art (Honey) Robinson of Pittsburgh have been booked for a six-round preliminary bout on the Arena fight card Monday, Matchmaker Larry Atkins announced today. Light heavyweights Bobby Berry of Cleveland and Leroy Thompson of Chicago meet in another six-rounder, Atkins said.

Baseball Dinner Set For 6:30 On Thursday

The Salem Athletics will hold their second annual banquet at the Lape hotel at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, Scott Chisholm, business manager of the club, anannounced today.

Although original plans called for a speaker at the affair, Chisholm said he was unable to secure one in time. The annual business meeting and dinner will comprise the entire program.

All members of the team and a number of guests have been invited.

Visiting Band Gets Wet, Host Supplies Dry Suits

LIMA, O.—High school students and officials saved a desperate situation and showed a new type of sportsmanship at a football game here.

Bandsmen from the visiting Cincinnati Walnut Hills school were parading before the game. They went through their snappy maneuvers, dressed in brilliant uniforms—then it rained.

But the band was back at half time in dry clothing, supplied by Lima citizens—and wearing old but dry uniforms proudly sporting the letter "L."

COUNTY SPORTSMEN TO MEET MONDAY

LISBON, Nov. 7.—The Columbiana County Fish and Game association will meet at 8:30 p. m. Monday in the St. George's parrish here to hear talks by George Messerly, state fish management agent, and Walter Lauffer of the state conservation division.

Movies, "The Romance of Ohio," will be shown.

Rams Report Sellout

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7—Officials of Cleveland's National Pro Football league Rams announced today the first sellout in the club's history. Rams' management said all 29,000 seats, including 6,000 temporary ones have been sold for the game with the defending Champion Green Bay Packers in League park Sunday.

Squad Cut In Half

Says Press Information Will Come From Him Since Sarringhaus Set-to Aired

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Nov. 7.—With a tight censorship clamped on the doings of his squad, Coach Carrol Widdoes of Ohio State today concentrated on preparation for Saturday's game with the Pittsburgh Panthers at Pittsburgh.

Widdoes invoked a censorship ruling prohibiting his players from talking for publication after a wave of publicity that resulted when Halfback Paul Sarringhouse quit the squad and then rejoined it.

Widdoes banned newsmen from the training and locker rooms, told his players not to talk with reporters, and added that henceforth he would be the source of information on the doings of the Bucks.

With Sarringhaus playing on the third team in yesterday's practice session, Widdoes sent his charges through an hour and a half scrimmage against tricky "T" formations expected from Coach Clark Shaugnnessy's Pitt gridders.

Saturday's encounter was expected to be a breather for the Bucks, but elsewhere around the Western Conference plenty of action was expected.

Hoosiers Meet Gophers

On the surface, it might look like another Indiana victory. However, the Gophers, after losses to Ohio State and Michigan, may be ready to rebound and smack down the Hoosiers.

The game will be one of the most decisive of the Western Conference season. The Gophers, listed among the pre-season favorites, reported three casualties today, but Coach Bernie Bierman hoped all would be in shape for the Indiana tussle.

The three include Vic Kulbitski, injured leg; Guard Dave Day, knee injury, and Halfback Ken Parent, leg ailment.

Illinois Improves

Wisconsin named Halfback Don Kindt, a returned serviceman, captain for Saturday's homecoming game with Northwestern, and announced George Urbanis, a guard, would be sidelined with injuries . . . Iowa's pass-minded Hawkeyes got new aerial plays to use against Illinois . . . Northwestern groomed subs to replace Don Laser, reserve quarterback benched by a facial injury . . . Illinois held a long workout as injured players, including Halfback Eddie Bray, began to return to the squad.

Ship ahoy!...Have a Coke

...refreshment joins the family reunion

It's a far cry from shipboard to the family fireside. But in both places your sailor finds friendliness and Coca-Cola. The words Have a Coke have a special meaning for him. They say You're one of us. The sparkling refreshment of ice-cold Coke reflects the friendly American spirit . . . has made the pause that refreshes a national custom.

OHIO VOTERS

mayoralty races, 44 returned incumbent candidates to office. Of these, 27 were Republicans, 11 Democrats and 6 non-partisan or Independents.

Burke Is Elected

Chief interest in the mayoralty races centered in Cleveland where Incumbent Thomas A. Burke, a Democrat, was elected over Republican Ray C. Miller by one of the largest percentages in the city's history. Burke succeeded Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche as Cleveland's mayor and had the governor's support during his campaign.

Incomplete returns from Cincinnati showed Mayor James Garfield Stewart and four fellow Republicans leading in a race for nine city council seats.

Cincinnati's councilmen are elected under the proportional representation system, with the council selecting mayor. A Republican majority in the council would practically assure Mayor Stewart of reelection.

Canton's Democratic incumbent, Mayor Carl F. Klein was re-elected over H. Ross Ake, a Republican, and Akron's Republican mayor, Charles E. Slusser, was running ahead of Democrat Ralph E. Turner in his bid for reelection.

Also up for decision yesterday were some 600 tax levies. Early returns from 14 subdivisions showed 14 levies, most of them calling for school improvements, receiving a favorable vote with four being defeated.
